Today I want to show you my new work and share a pattern for it.

I knitted this cardigan for a 5 years old girl. As a basis, I use the free pattern Cotton-Ease Eyelet Yoke Cardigan (click the link). However, I made changes - I knitted from top to bottom, starting with the yoke, and made the back and fronts without seams. In that pattern, two fronts and a back are knitted in separate parts, sleeves are knitted in rows, then all the necessary seams are made, and only after that everything is joined and a round yoke is knitted.

- Row 45: Working first and last 4 sts in Seed st as established, purl.
- Row 46: Keeping first and last 4 sts in Seed st as established, Knit increasing 7 sts evenly spaced across row - 195 sts.

Separate the body and sleeves

- 53 sts (back) + 30 sts (front) + 30 sts (front) + 41 st s (sleeve) + 41 sts (sleeve) = 195 sts.
 - Remove sts for sleeves on an additional thread.
 - Work 4 rows in stocking stitch on the back (53 sts) for neck shaping.
 - Next, join fronts and back (make 6 sts between fronts and back for the armhole).
 - Work the body in a Stockinette st, make buttonholes every 23 rows (the 1st, 24th, 47th rows, 5 buttons in total). Work 58 rows in total, then bind off.

Sleeves

- Slip the stitches from the additional thread to the knitting needles, join to the round and work in Stockinette st, making decreases in each 4th row 13 times (up to 52 rows - 58 ->32 sts).
 - Next, work according to the pattern:
 - 53 row: Knit
 - 54 row: Purl
 - 55 row: K2tog, yo
 - 56 row: Purl
 - 57-69 rows: Knit
 - 70-74 rows: Work in Seed st
 - Bind off.
